

Tableau Elements

A good tableau reflects the following elements:

- Tight composition—characters should be close together
- Physical proximity indicates relationships—loving versus adversarial—which characters would be closer?
- Exaggerated gestures and facial expressions
- Variety of height levels—it's visually boring when everyone is standing, sitting, etc.
- Characters face the audience