

Combine the following sentence using the cue in parentheses.

Example:

1. Willa Cather wrote about life in the American west. She was raised in Nebraska. (Use who.)
Willa Cather, who was raised in Nebraska, wrote about life in the American West.

Now try the same move with the following sentences:

2. My family moved to California. My father became a disk jockey. (Use when.)
3. All the sophomore girls traveled to Detroit. In Detroit they had a concert. (Use where.)
4. The burglar opened the closet door carefully. He was looking for a locked box. (Use and.)
5. Bald eagles are a protected species. The population of bald eagles is growing annually. (Use but.)
6. Soccer is often played in the spring. It is also played in the fall. (Use or.)
7. The price of the new CD has been increased. It is possible to purchase it with a money-saving coupon. (Use but.)
8. The boy carried water bottles for the football team. He was called Water Boy. (Use who.)
9. Oklahoma was the destination of the Cherokee people who were forced to move out of the Southeast in the early nineteenth century. It was called Indian Territory before it became a state. (Use which.)
10. Commercial airplanes consume a lot of fuel. Some newer planes have been made more fuel efficient. (Use although.)